B. Multiple choice (1.25 pts)

Sydney is Australia's most exciting city. The history of Australia begins here. In 1788 Captain Arthur Philips arrived in Sydney with 11 ships and 1624 passengers from Britain (including 770 prisoners). Today there are about 3.6 million people in Sydney. It is the biggest city in Australia, the busiest port in the South Pacific and one of the most beautiful cities in the world. In Sydney, the buildings are higher, the colours are brighter and the nightlife is more exciting. There are over 20 excellent beaches close to Sydney and its warm climate and cool winter have made its favourite city for immigrants from overseas. There are two things that make Sydney famous: its beautiful harbour, the Sydney Harbour Bridge, which was built in 1932 and the Sydney Opera House, which was opened in 1973.

1. According to the passage, where did Captain Arthur Philips arrive in 1788?
A. South Pacific. B. Sydney Harbour Bridge. C. Sydney. D. Britain.
2. How many people are there in Sydney today?
A. 1.624 million. B 3.6 million. C. 770 million. D. 1788 million.
3. The word “immigrants” in the text means _____.
A. people who travel to a different country or place, often in order to find work
B. people who have come to a different country in order to live there permanently
C. people who have come to a different country in order to study
D. people who have rights because of being born there
4. Which of the following statements is NOT true about Sydney?
A. Sydney is not famous for its beautiful harbour.
B. Sydney is one of the most beautiful cities in the world.
C. Sydney is the busiest port in the South Pacific.
D. Sydney is the most exciting city in Australia.
5. Which of the following should be the best title of the reading passage?
A. Sydney's Opera House.
B. The history of Sydney.
C. An introduction of Sydney .
D. Sydney's beaches and harbours.

TRANSCRIPT

Part 1:

Tony: You know my after-school science club, Lisa? There's a competition with another school, and I'm in the team!

Lisa: Well done! When is it?

Tony: The club meets on Monday, but the competition is on Wednesday. We're going to practise on Tuesday.

Lisa: Can I come and watch the competition?

Tony: Yes, but it's not at the school – it's at the university, in the building near the town hall.

Lisa: So, how will you get there?

Tony: It's too far to walk, so we'll take the bus. The underground is quicker, but it's expensive.

Lisa: I know. So, is it a quiz?

Tony: Yes. It'll take about forty-five minutes for five questions of five subjects – that's twenty-five questions. There's a fifteen minute break in the middle.

Lisa: What subject are you hoping for?

Tony: I'm not great at biology! I enjoy physics the most. But I think this competition will have lots of questions on chemistry.

Lisa: Is there a prize?

Tony: Yes. First prize is cinema tickets for everyone in the team. Much better than a box of chocolates. And even if we don't win, we can all keep our special T-shirts.

Lisa: Cool! Good luck!

Tony: Thanks!

Part 2:

Man: Good morning. South Field Farm. How can I help?

Girl: I'm phoning about your job advertisement in this week's newspaper.

Man: Yes. We're looking for a student to be a farm worker during the holidays.

Girl: What are the hours?

Man: You'll start at six-thirty am and finish at two p.m. There's a break for lunch at twelve fifteen.

Girl: OK. Are you looking for anything special?

Man: You'll be working with soft fruit, so it's important that you're careful and strong – the boxes get heavy.

Girl: Is the money good?

Man: Our farm workers usually get three hundred and twenty-five pounds a week, but in this job you'll get three hundred pounds a week.

Girl: Why's that?

Man: Because lunch is included. But you do have to pay for your bus tickets.

Girl: OK. I'd like the job. What should I do now?

Man: You need to send me your details, including your address and phone number, before the tenth of May. The job starts on the twenty-fourth of May. I'll let you know next week if we need you.

❖ Part A: Choose the word or phrase among A, B, C or D that best fits the blank space in the following passage.

The (1) _____ of parental authority has changed. Today, no parent can take their children's respect for granted: authority has to be earned. Several studies have shown the following problems.

Trust: A lot of young people say their parents don't trust them. Some of them have no privacy: their parents read all their emails, and enter their rooms (2) _____ knocking. All of these actions demonstrate lack of respect. (3) _____, these teenagers have little respect for their parents.

Communication: Hardly any teens discuss their problems with their parents. That's because very few teens feel their parents really listen to them. Instead, most parents tend to fire off an immediate response to their kid's first sentence.

Freedom: Interestingly. Most rebels come from very authoritarian homes where kids have very little freedom. Teens need (4) _____ rules but they have to be clear and unchangeable. Also, if the mother and father don't agree about discipline, teens have less respect for both parents. They also need a lot of support and a little freedom to take their own decisions. None of them enjoy just listening to adults

Role models: Teens don't have much respect for their parents if neither of them actually does things (5) _____ they expect their children to do. Like everybody, teens appreciate people who practice what they reach.

1. A. provision B. concept C. breadwinner D. applicant
2. A. in B. during C. with D. without
3. A. Consequently B. So C. However D. Moreover
4. A. more B. less C. fewer D. little
5. A. who B. that C. whom D. where

❖ Part B: Read the passage carefully and choose the correct answer.

Every year, students in many countries learn English. Some of these students are young children. Others are teenagers. Many are adults. Some learn at school, others study by themselves. A few learn English just by hearing the language in films, on television, in the office or among their friends. But not many are lucky enough to do that. Most people must work hard to learn another language.

Many boys and girls learn English at school because it is one of their subjects. They study their own language, mathematics, and English. In England, America, or Australia, many boys and girls study their native language, which is English, mathematics, and another language, perhaps French, or German or Spanish.

Many adults learn English because it is useful for their work. Teenagers often learn English for their higher studies, because some of their books are in English at college or university. Others learn English because they want to read newspapers or magazines in English.

1. Many adults learn English because _____.
A. most of their books are in English
B. it helps them in their work
C. English is spoken in their office
D. they want to go abroad
2. According to the writer _____.
A. English is useful only for teenagers

TRANSCRIPT

PART 1:

Hi everybody. I'm Kiko from Japan. I am studying English for 5 years, I love it. And I have some suggestions for those who want to improve vocabulary.

First, most vocabulary words are learned from context. The more words you're exposed to, the better vocabulary you will have. While you read, pay close attention to words you don't know. Then look the new words up. Read and listen to challenging materials so that you'll be exposed to many new words.

Learning a word won't help very much if you promptly forget it. Research shows that it takes from 10 to 20 repetitions to really make a word part of your vocabulary. It helps to write the word- both the definition and a sentence you make up using the word- perhaps on an index card that can later be reviewed. As soon as you learn a new word, start using it. Review your index cards periodically to see if you have forgotten any of your new words. Also, do a search on a word using webpage dejanews.com (for searching newsgroups) to get many examples of how the word is actually used. That's D-E-J-A-N-E-W-S. COM

Finally, you really should make up as many associations and connections as possible. Say the word aloud to activate your auditory memory. Relate the word to words you already know

PART 2:

Woman: Hello, school of Italian Studies

Man: Hello, I saw your advertisement in a newspaper. Can you give me some information, please?

Woman: Yes, of course. What would you like to know?

Man: Well, first, how long are the courses?

Woman: They're six or nine months long and the next courses begin next Monday.

Man: How many students will there be in the class? Not too many, I hope.

Woman: Usually, there are about 15. We find that a good number

Man: OK. Now, I saw the price of the course in the newspaper, but I will have to pay for anything else?

Woman: Only for the course book, which costs twelve pounds ninety-nine.

Man: I see. When can I come and pay?

Woman: Well, the school is opened eight a.m to seven p.m Monday to Friday and on Saturday from nine to one.

Man: OK. And one more question- what's the nearest underground station to your school?

Woman: It's Green Park.

Man: Green Park. I see. Well, thank you very much. Goodbye.

Woman: Goodbye.

Part 2: Read the text and answer the questions below. (1,25pt)

Every year, students in many countries learn English. Some of these students are young, children. Others are teenagers. Many are adults. Some learn at school, others study by themselves. A few learn English just by hearing the language in films, on television, in the office or among their friends. But not many are lucky enough to do that. Most people must work hard to learn another language.

Many boys and girls learn English at school because it is one of their subjects. They study their own language, mathematics, and English. In England, America, or Australia, many boys and girls study their native language, which is English, mathematics, and another language, perhaps French, or German or Spanish.

Many adults learn English because it is useful for their work. Teenagers often learn English for their higher studies, because some of their books are in English at college or university. Others learn English because they want to read newspapers or magazines in English.

-----THE END-----

Tapecrips:

Part 1:

Jan: Hi, Steve!

Steve: Hi, Jenny. I'm going to go to London on the train. Come with me.

Jan: But it's cheaper by bus.

Steve: I've got a travel student card. You can get cheap train with it.

Jan: That sounds good. How much does it cost?

Steve: A card for six months is sixteen pounds.

Jan: So How do I get one?

Steve: You need some photographs – one for the card and one for the form.

Jan: Oh, there a photo machine in the post office. It gives you four photos for three pounds.

Steve: So does the one in the library. But I went to a photographer's shop. It was cheaper.

Jan: I don't have to show my passport or my driving licence, do I?

Steve: That's right Jan. You only need a letter from your college.

Jan: I'll ask my teacher for one.

Steve: And then you take everything to the tourist office by the travel agent.

Jan: Great. Next time you go to London. I'll come to.

Part 2:

Right, listen carefully, everyone. I want to tell you about our school trip. We are going to go on Saturday. I hope you can all come. As you know, we're going to visit the film museum. There are lots of very interesting things there about the cinema and how films are made. We'll have to leave at 8.45 so don't be late. We'll get there by bus. Please meet me in the car park. You all know where that is, don't you? and when we return, the bus will leave you at the school entrance. Tell your parents, won't you?

What's next? Oh yes, the cost. It'll be six pounds seventy pence each, OK? Remember to get the money from your parents. Now, I'm going to give you some work to do at the museum. You'll need to write things down, so take a pencil with you. we'll have lunch in the museum café so you needn't bring any food with you. well, I think that's everything.

TAPESCRIPIT FOR LISTENING

PART 1

Listen to Grace telling a friend about a hotel.

For questions 1 to 4, tick A, B or c. You will hear the conversation twice.

Look at questions 11 to 15 now. You have twenty seconds.

Now listen to the conversation.

Friend: Hello, Grace, did you have a nice time at the Rosemount Hotel?

Grace: You mean the Rose bank, yes, I enjoyed it.

Friend: Where was it?

Grace: Five minutes from the mountains, right on the beach. The shops were ten kilometers away.

Friend: It sounds rather quiet.

Grace: It was, but I liked that.

Friend: Was there a pool?

Grace: Yes, but it was closed. I swam in the sea once but I spent most days on the hotel golf course. There were tennis courts in the town but they were too far away.

Friend: Did you have a nice room?

Grace: Yes, it was quite big and I could watch television and videos there in the evening. If I wanted a cup of coffee or cold drink I went to the bar downstairs.

Friend: And how about the meals?

Grace: There were lots of vegetables but the meat and fish were always fried and often came with chips. I really prefer rice or pasta.

Friend: Me too.

Grace: Anyway, my stay didn't cost much and it was a nice quiet break away from my noisy family!

Now listen again.

This is the end of Part Three.

Now look at Part Four.

Part 2:

You will hear a conversation about a holiday English course.

Listen and complete questions 2 to 5. You will hear the conversation twice.

Man: Dudley College.

Woman: Oh hello. Could you tell me about your holiday English courses, please?

Man: Yes, they're in our college in Oxford.

Woman: It's for my friend's daughter. She's fifteen and comes from Poland.

Man: Fine. Our holiday courses are for teenagers. We take students from the age of thirteen but most are a little older.

Woman: Oh good. How long is the course?

Man: It begins on the eleventh of July and finishes on the twenty-ninth.

Woman: That's three weeks, isn't it? Do the students live in the college?

Man: Not on these courses. We put the teenagers with English families in their homes. Our teachers think it's better. That way, they speak more English and learn about English life.

Woman: Good idea! How much does the course cost? Man: It's six hundred and ninety pounds. That's for everything.

Woman: And where exactly is the college?

Man: It's in Farley Street.

Woman: How do you spell that?

Man: That's F-A-R-L-E-Y.

Woman: Thanks. Could you send me a booking form?

Man: Certainly. What's your name ...?

Now listen again.

Part B: Read the passage and decide whether the statements are True or False. (1.25pts)

Lots of young people tend to choose jobs which are well-paid even though they do not have any passion, abilities, and personalities to do the jobs. They may choose a job to please their parents, to achieve a certain status or position in the society, to get high salary, or simply because it is better than other jobs. Consequently, they may end up on the wrong career path.

In order to choose a suitable job, you should think carefully about your background, such as what you like and dislike, your abilities and personalities, and even your health. It is interesting when you have to job options to choose from. However, it is stressful and uneasy to decide which job to opt even with your teacher's and a career counsellor's advice and help.

Choosing your career path is a tough process that requires careful thinking and a lot of planning. It is not a decision to be taken lightly, since your entire future income and way of living will be based on what you choose. Even though you can change career path later in life, the changing process is very challenging and hard, and will still depend on the choices you make right now. Different careers require different sets of skills, talents and qualifications. By the time you have chosen your career path, you should already know what the requirements for your chosen career path are.

1. What is the passage mainly about?

A. Choosing jobs carefully to have a right career path.

B. Ways to choose good jobs for your career path.

C. Why people have chosen wrong jobs.

D. Misconceptions when choosing jobs and career paths.

2. According to the first paragraph, lots of young people choose a job for.....
A. life B. fun C. money D. a trend in the market
3. Which of the following is advised to consider when choosing a job, according to the second paragraph?
A. health B. interest
C. abilities and personalities D. all of the above
4. The word “It” in the third paragraph refers to
A. careful thinking B. choosing a career path
C. advice and help D. planning for career
5. Which of the following is NOT true according to the passage?.
A. Young people tend to prioritize money over passion, abilities, and personalities.
B. Our future income and way of living will be based on the jobs we choose now.
C. We can always choose a suitable job with the help of a career counsellor.
D. We can change our career path later, but the changing will still depend on our current choices.
